

The Disciples

One of the things Jesus loved about life was friendship. At the beginning of his ministry, he surrounded himself with twelve disciples. He personally invited each of them to follow him. He knew that he was going to die to bring salvation to all humanity, and that others would be needed to carry on the mission.

In every place and in every time, Jesus calls men, women, and children to follow him and carry on his mission. He invites you to become one of his disciples in the world today.

How can you carry on Jesus' mission?
